OCVTS Program: Child Care Profession, Brick Center – Laura Morelli, Instructor and Amy Mayer, Aide
Student: Cady Remig
Employer: The Honey Tree, Point Pleasant – Angela Ravaioli, Owner

The Honey Tree is a privately owned Day Care with locations in Brick, Toms River and Point Pleasant. Cady Remig is a graduate of the Child Care Profession Program at the Brick Center. She is employed at the Honey Tree's Pt. Pleasant location. "Cady is a wonderful employee. She is a kind teacher who is always willing to go the extra mile to make her students smile," a comment shared by the director of the Point Pleasant Honey Tree.

"During the two years while in the Child Care Program, Cady demonstrated true leadership and an understanding of child development. She is a responsible and hardworking individual who always strives to do her best. I am so proud and honored that Cady Remig was a two year graduate of the Child Care Profession Program and is currently working in the child care industry," remarked Laura Morelli, the Instructor.

Amy Mayer, Aide in the Child Care Profession Program wanted to share some comments. She stated, "Cady had a very professional attitude towards the various job assignments in the Tiny Tech Preschool. Because of her cheerful approach and positive attitude, she was adored by the 3, 4, and 5 year olds. Her bright, smiling face and warm, welcoming "hellos" helped the preschoolers make a positive adjustment from home to group. Cady displayed a natural readiness and interest in subject area which made her an outstanding teacher-in-training."

Working at the Honey Tree is a labor of love for Cady. She believes that having completed the Child Care Program has prepared her in many ways to be successful in this field. "I loved every second of the program and I daily think of the good times that I had there and the many things that I have learned. I would gladly recommend this program to anyone," remarked Cady.
