Everyone is smiling in this photo beginning with Chris Ehrhardt, Instructor in the Design & Visual Communication Program at the Brick Center. He stated, "What a win-win for Ocean County. One of Ocean County Vocational Technical School's best students, Cheyenne gets a great job with a wonderful company like UPS. I love to see my students help Ocean County employers!"

Owner of the UPS Store, Bob Mullen commented, "I have had continued success partnering with OCVTS. The associates have an interest in the work and are committed to the program." Bob is smiling because Cheyenne is such an asset to his business. His UPS Store is located on Route 9, in the Tri-City Plaza in Toms River.

Cheyenne Riehl, a grad from the DVC program (Class of 2012) is smiling because she landed a job as a graphic artist at the UPS Store. Like most of the DVC grads, Cheyenne is continuing her education. She commented, "OCVTS has given me an extraordinary opportunity to get a head start in my career, and I absolutely love where it has brought me so far! I am so grateful to OCVTS."
